

Bruce Stewart, D.D.S.

After studying at the University of Michigan for eight years, Dr. Stewart opened a northern Michigan dental practice focused on compassionate care. After many years, he transitioned into the roles of teaching dental students and providing compassionate care for patients in underserved settings. Dr. Stewart was raised in Metro Detroit. During his youth, he learned to play the bagpipes with the St. Andrew's Pipe Band of Detroit due to his Scottish heritage.

✓ Speaks English