

Agron Myftari

LMSW, ACSW, PhD

Agron Myftari is a Clinical Social Worker at WCHC. He provides psychotherapy for adults, couples, and adolescents with psychiatric and substance abuse issues. He collaborates with physicians, nursing staff, clinical therapists, psychiatrists, and case managers. Agron also serves as a liaison and problem resolution agent with various court systems, attorneys, and community mental health services. His favorite part of the job is helping people in need by facilitating their growth and full self-actualization. Agron's favorite aspect of serving the community is human solidarity. In his free time, he enjoys world literature, philosophy, and film/documentaries.

✓ Speaks English